MARGARET EATON PUPILS CONCLUDE SKATING TERM

An informal demonstration in Varsity Arena yesterday afternoon, brought to a close the figure skating season for the students of the Margaret Eaton School. School figures by both juniors and seniors, waltzing, the fourteen step and a free skating ballet were interesting numbers. A comic entitled "Ferdinand the Bull," created much amusement for the audience. Guest skaters added to the interest and beauty of the program. They were Miss Ruth Paul and Miss Marlon Lumbers of the Granite Club and Miss Milda Allen. Miss Eleanor M. Keyes directed the demonstration.

WHETHER it is the devil or the plain Iscarlot in us that is responsible, we do not know but whatever devilish fern responsible we find the Stanley victory of the Boston team easily satisfactory. It is not of course the Bruins have been previously the best team in the world. It is primarily because we are in Toronto and not in Boston. I believe it will be pleasant to sit at home with citizens who have jolted back to reality by the idolatry of their young athletic idols. Too Much Worship.

We think the adulation bestowed on professional athletes general bad for them spiritually and commercially, and tends to weaken the intellects of those who lay it on. It is salutary that an event should prove that their admiration has been excessive and at times foolish. A certain amount of living in a fool's paradise is not without uses; but it is important that the time comes to vacate the house when one should know what has been frequenting. It would be a pity if any considerable number of citizens should go through the summer months under the same delusion that has sort of forced them through the winter. Back to Earth.

the Heliconian Club last week, comprising original works by these seven young Canadian composers: Walter MacNutt, Donald Ryerson, Godfrey Ridout, Frances Campbell, Louis Applebaum, Margaret Robinson, and Eldon Rathburn. The comment of Ewart Walker, President of the older Vögt Society, is worth quoting. After hearing the program, he remarked on two outstanding points: first, the style of each composer was individual; and, secondly, their work showed what can be done that is entirely new. A penetrating and gratifying tribute.

This department's representative found last Saturday night's Recital of the Modern Dance by students of the Margaret Eaton School a very commendable affair, both in the originality of the offerings and in the detailed polish of the performances.

Many Parts of Canada Contribute to Demonstration At Margaret Eaton School

Gymnastic Physical Education and Clever Dance Numbers Delight Representative Audience

FENCING GAY FEATURE

Fifty-two girls from many parts of Canada, dressed in smart abbreviated black and white uniforms, opened the annual demonstration of Physical Education at Margaret Eaton School last night with the singing of "O Canada." The demonstration, held in the gymnasium, was under the direction of Miss Florence A. Somers, Miss Elizabeth Wardley, Miss Dorothy Jackson, Miss Marion Hobday, Miss Mildred Wickson and Miss Dorothy Pratt.

Parents and guests of the students filled to overflowing the hall and enthusiastically applauded their feats and skill. The well-arranged program began with a group of English country dances by the junior students and proceeded with an exhibition of gymnastics in which the seniors joined using their apparatus. The audience held its breath while the able performers nimbly swung from the suspended rings, turned somersaults in the air, hung upside down, and with accurate timing tested the mechanical

Parents and guests of the students filled to overflowing the hall, and enthusiastically applauded their feats and skill. The audience held its breath while the able performers nimbly swung from the suspended rings, turned somersaults in the air, hung upside down, and with accurate timing leaped the mechanical horse, turning their bodies in the air.

Unusual was the display of fencing. The students showed the various positions used in this art, which teaches poise and infinite grace. They then held a three-point bout in which winners were declared. An exhibition game of badminton was played illustrating the great amount of exercise this game includes. A skilled performance of tap dancing was shown followed by a round dance, a chorus, entitled "Five Pleasant People," a symbolic dance called, "The Strike," and concluding with a picturesque choral.

Suggestions for any recreational evening were enacted, including a social mixer, a ball-passing game, a square dance and a musical game, as well as some more well-executed stunts. In conclusion, four distinctly different types of folk dancing were shown, bringing out the co-ordination, grace, skill and poise which the

SELFISH ATTITUDE BAD FOR CANADA

Margaret Eaton School Graduates Urged to Be Citizens of World

That the Dominion, by adhering to a policy of "Canada for Canadians," shutting its doors to fine men and women from persecuted countries of Europe, "is guilty of national selfishness that in its own way is just about as dangerous to our moral existence as is the blatant, strident nationalism that exists in some countries of Europe," was a warning sounded by Mr. Joseph McCulley, headmaster of Picering College, speaking at the Commencement exercises, Margaret Eaton school. Nationalism and racialism rampant in Europe, sometimes described as "man's other religion" and "which denies to other nationalities" virtues possessed by headmaster of Pictou College, speaking at the Commencement exercises, Margaret Eaton school.

 Nationalism and racialism rampant in Europe, sometimes described as "man's other religion" and "which denies to other nationalities virtues possessed by itself," is a development of recent years, and is pernicious to the wholesome life of world society, he had previously declared.

"I do not believe that there was ever in human history so many people from so many places fleeing from persecution, racial, political, religious," he declared.
 People who have the courage to make their escape from intolerable conditions are most likely to appreciate benefits of a democratic country like Canada, and the few refugees who have been admitted thus far have created a favorable impression, he maintained.

Addressing the graduates, he urged them as young people about to enter the arena of life to face the fact squarely that "the world is a difficult place—not less challenging on that account—but inspiring you to put forward your best efforts in the hope that the younger generation may succeed where the older ones have failed." He begged them to hold fast to the ideals of democracy and work in a spirit of co-operation toward the goal of world fellowship which, he said, had been the vision of man since the dawn
